Annual Report 2022 -2023

1. INTRODUCTION

In 1966, under the Third Five-Year Plan, the Government of Tamil Nadu established the Government College of Engineering, Salem-11, marking it as the third government engineering college inaugurated in the region. Nestled within a 162-hectare expanse, embraced by verdant surroundings, the college embarked on its academic journey by welcoming its inaugural batch of students for the 1966-1967 academic year. Ever since, it has been on a continuous trajectory of evolution to cater to the dynamic demands of technical education.

The college is driven by a visionary goal to sculpt not only exemplary engineers in the realms of Science and Technology but also to nurture them into responsible citizens. It is dedicated to forging well-rounded individuals, equipped with comprehensive knowledge, who are poised to contribute to the nation's progress and development. Emphasizing the delivery of contemporary technical education, the college aspires to empower the next generation of engineers with cutting-edge knowledge.

As an autonomous entity, sanctioned by both the AICTE and the UGC, and affiliated with Anna University, Chennai, the college offers a diverse portfolio of academic programs, including six undergraduate, six postgraduate, and four part-time undergraduate courses. It is recognized for its research capabilities, hosting Ph.D. and M.S. programs under Anna University's aegis across various engineering disciplines. Notably, it serves as a QIP (Quality Improvement Programme) center endorsed by the AICTE, focusing on research leading to Ph.D. degrees in the fields of Mechanical, Civil, and Electrical and Electronics Engineering.

The Civil Engineering Department stands out for its remarkable revenue from Testing and Consultancy services. The Electrical and Electronics Engineering Department has made significant contributions to electrical energy conservation and auditing. The Metallurgical Engineering Department boasts a vital industrial connection with JSW, enhancing student placement opportunities, while the Electronics and Communication Engineering Department ensures seamless internet connectivity throughout the campus. Lastly, the Computer Science and Engineering Department, the newest addition to the college, not only keeps the institute's website current but also boasts a 100% placement rate annually.
